ORDERS AND ENQUIRIES

Placing Orders

Today's world of commerce is forever looking at increasing efficiency in every process, none more so than reducing the administration included in every transition – a great example is banking where overall administration has reduced significantly due to on-line services.

At Abloy UK we are keen to make ordering our products as easy as possible and so have a number of different methods which customers may use to best suit their situation and ordering pattern

Traditional Method – Orders placed via emailed PDF, fax, etc.

We need the following information from you to help us process your order quickly and efficiently.

- On official Company headed paper
- Company name and address for invoicing
- Account Number – if you have one
- Contact name and details
- Your order number
- Product part numbers to clearly identify the product required
- Description of product required, including handing, finish etc.
- Quantity of the product required
- Special delivery details if any (method, address if different)

Vital Order Information

- Please place ongoing stock orders 24 hours prior to the day of dispatch to allow for picking and packing
- State quote reference numbers where applicable
- Please place orders for Master Keyed cylinders and keys, on separate orders to avoid confusion, and include relevant system details.
- Any requirements for special markings/coding etc. should be clearly stated on the order.

Orders – Confirmation

- Order confirmation are sent by direct fax or e-mail
- Orders will be confirmed prior to despatch.
- Once received, please check the confirmation and advise the Sales Office if any changes are required.

Orders – General Information

- Further items may be added to an order if it is still 'live' and if not more than one week old. If an order has been despatched and invoiced, goods may not be added to it.
- If an order is required for dispatch that same day, assuming the goods are available, the order must be received by midday. Carriage charges still apply.
- Delivery is charged for orders not meeting our carriage-paid threshold, and for any delivery method other than standard.

Electronic Ordering from Abloy UK

We want to make ordering from Abloy UK easy, accurate and convenient for our customers, so we offer a range of Electronic Ordering options which are described in the following pages. By using the Ordering System that suits them best, we aim to minimise the risk of errors and maximise convenience for our customers.

A number of electronic ordering options are available according to your ordering pattern, quantity of orders and type of product ordered. We will assist in finding the best solution for your business.

1. EDI
2. Excel Upload
3. Quote to Order
4. Webshop

Electronic ordering brings a number of benefits to all parties – the overriding advantage is accuracy of the order but there are many others including:

1. 24/7 Order Entry
2. Reduced risk of order entry error
3. Knowledge that an order is placed as soon as it is generated
4. Improved Customer Service
5. Convenience for both the customer and Abloy
6. Automated – quick and convenient
7. Uses existing IT infrastructure
8. Improved business efficiencies for both parties

1) Electronic Data Interchange (EDI)

a) How it works

EDI allows the customers and Abloy UK's ERP operating systems to communicate and exchange data directly. Once the order has been completed on the customer system it is translated and sent electronically to the Abloy AX system.

Many different types of business communications can be sent and received securely using EDI to make communication between companies immediate and seamless.

b) Who uses EDI

1. EDI is ideal for customers who place a high number of orders, lots of order lines, many of which are repeat stock orders
2. Larger Organisations Companies that operate their own ERP system
3. Customers that regularly order standard items
4. Customers that don't use explicit manufacturers part numbers
5. Abloy Authorised and Approved Dealers, and customers with multiple branches that want to centralise their ordering process

c) Benefits

1. Customers use their own ERP system output
2. Easy ordering process - customers can use 'own' part numbers
3. Includes full part numbers and descriptions to reduce the risk of mistakes
4. Orders are automatically sent to Abloy - fast processing for both the customer and Abloy

2) Excel Upload

a) How it works

The Excel Upload is a quick and convenient method of creating orders – using a preset Excel template of Abloy product either selected by the customer or based on the last 2 years purchases.

Customer is supplied with a dual branded excel spreadsheet listing the selected product. Customer adds quantity required alongside appropriate lines and saves the Excel file.

1. The Customer sends the Excel file which is 'read' by and translated by the system and the order loaded
2. Any anomalies are flagged can be checked by Abloy's Sales Office staff after translation
3. The information includes full part numbers and descriptions supplied by Abloy UK

b) Who uses Excel Upload

1. Small and medium size companies that may not operate their own ERP system
2. Customers that regularly order standard items – ideal for stock and repeat orders
3. Customers that don't use explicit manufacturers part numbers

d) Benefits

1. The import functionality replaces manual order entry, reducing the risk of errors and speeding up order entry
2. Pre-set template of 'focus' product relative too your business
3. Easy to use order form
4. Can assist with inventory control
5. Areas in order form for comments to aid input where necessary

3) Quote to Order

a) How it works

1. The 'Quote to Order' process enables us to create and send a Sales Quotation to our Customer. Once the customer confirms, the sales order is seamlessly created from the quotation ensuring what is quoted is charged
2. All prices, address details, notes and relevant information stay attached in the quote to Order process so all details can be checked in the quotation phase
3. The Sales Order is automatically created from the quotation

b) Who uses Quote to Order

1. Customers that regularly require clarification of price
2. Where a project involves more complex 'specifications'
3. Where a master key system is operating

d) Benefits

1. Easy Ordering following quotation phases of the sales process
2. The quotation includes full part numbers , descriptions and relevant information
3. Minimal risk of order errors

4) Webshop

a) How it works

The Webshop enables Abloy's customers to order products online, quickly and conveniently, it has comprehensive product information and a range of features to maximise the benefit of using this service.

The Webshop operates like most similar online facilities, providing customers with a flexible search facility, to quickly find and select the product(s) they're looking to purchase.

It is also a comprehensive information portal, not only providing detailed product (and related products) information, but also relevant legislative references such as Compliance Standards to help guide our customers in their purchases.

b) Who uses the Webshop

1. Customers who want the convenience of mobile ordering
2. Customers who regularly order standard items
3. Customers who may want assistance with their product selection
4. Customers who don't use explicit part numbers

d) Benefits

1. Greater efficiency, accuracy and speed of ordering for the customer
2. Convenience
 - Customers can 'fill their basket' of products through the week and send the complete order when it suits them
 - Customers can create a shopping list of their regular purchases to avoid unnecessary repetition
 - Visibility of products availability status
 - Orders can be placed 24/7
 - Orders can be tracked electronically
3. Comprehensive product information at point of order to help customers choose the right products

Choosing the best Ordering System for you

In order to identify the best electronic ordering solution for you we will take you through a number of questions regarding your potential ordering pattern (new customers), and existing customers review these questions with your historic purchasing partner

RETURNS PROCEDURE

Returns Procedure

Abloy UK have a returns procedure which is designed to allow us to process your returns quickly and accurately and this procedure forms part of our quality system. If you wish to return any products you must get authorisation from Abloy UK prior to sending any goods back. Please note that any goods for return must be returned by the original purchaser and if you do not follow our returns procedure we will return goods to you upon receipt at your cost.

Items may be returned to Abloy UK for the following reasons:

- You no longer require the product – stock items only*
- You believe there is a fault with the product and it is in warranty
- You believe there is a fault with the product and it is out of warranty

Product no longer required

If you no longer require the product you should contact Returns at Abloy UK as soon as possible – within one month latest from receiving the product. Any items that were specially purchased, custom built or have been fitted cannot be returned.

You will need the invoice number when contacting Returns. Depending on the product we may or may not issue an authorised returns number – no products should be returned without an authorised returns number and a copy of the returns form should be enclosed with the goods. Products received back without a returns number will be returned to you at your expense.

Upon receipt the product will be assessed for possible credit. If the product is in A1 condition a credit may be issued and a restocking charge of 25% of the nett purchase value will be charged to cover the costs of testing and repacking.

Possible fault with product – product in warranty

If you suspect a product has a fault you should in the first instance contact Product Support. Please provide the invoice number so that the warranty period can be confirmed. On many occasions simple problems can be fixed over the phone.

You will still need to obtain an authorised returns number from Returns – the returns form should be enclosed with the product together with information about the invoice number and the suspected fault.

The product will be assessed by our workshops and an order acknowledgement will be forwarded to you detailing the outcome of the assessment. In many cases the repair work will be carried out by Abloy but in some cases we may have to return the product to our suppliers for assessment in which case the assessment period will be longer dependant upon the supplier concerned.

Once the item has been repaired it will be returned to you. If the product is in warranty and there is a product fault you will not be charged.

If however there has been damage caused to the product or it has suffered abnormal wear and tear there will be a charge and the process will be the same as if the product is no longer in warranty – please see below.

Possible fault with product – product no longer in warranty

If a product is no longer in warranty and you would like us to assess it for repair, please contact our Returns for an authorised returns number. The returns form should be enclosed with the product together with information about the suspected fault. For some access control products which are out of warranty we are not able to provide a repair service.

The product will be assessed by our workshops and a quotation will be forwarded to you detailing the outcome of the assessment. This will detail the cost of the repair including any parts required. In many cases the repair work will be carried out by Abloy but in some cases we may have to return the product to our suppliers for assessment in which case the assessment period will be longer dependant upon the supplier concerned.

If you wish us to proceed with the repair you will need to provide an official order number to cover the cost.

If we do not receive any response within 28 days after sending you the quotation for repair we will return the product to you at your expense.

2. FORMATION AND PARTIES

The Purchaser’s order to the Seller is an offer to enter into a contract on these Conditions. Acceptance occurs and the contract is formed only upon the Seller despatching to the Purchaser its Order Acknowledgement. For the avoidance of doubt, the Seller is under no obligation to accept the Purchaser’s order. Any terms or conditions proffered at any time by the Purchaser are hereby excluded. These Conditions except as varied by express agreement in writing signed by a director or authorised person on behalf of the Seller shall be deemed to be incorporated in all contracts from time to time entered into between the Seller and the Purchaser which provide for the sale of any goods (including the Goods) by the Seller to the Purchaser. The agreements, warranties, conditions, representations and other items set out in the Order Acknowledgement and in these Conditions are together referred to in these Conditions as the “Agreement for Sale” and represent the complete agreement between the Seller and Purchaser with regard to the Goods and contain all agreements, warranties, conditions, representations and other terms agreed, made or relied upon by either party in connection with the Goods. A quotation by the Seller shall not constitute an offer.

3. GOODS AND SERVICES

a) The Seller will be entitled at any time prior to the supply of Goods to substitute any materials or parts which are used in the Goods and which are unavailable for any reason with alternative materials or parts to the extent that: (i) this does not materially adversely affect the quality or performance of that Good; or (ii) this is necessary to comply with applicable law, health and safety or other legal requirements. The Seller will use reasonable endeavours to give the Purchaser prior notice of any such variation or substitution.

b) The Seller warrants to the Purchaser that it will perform all services the subject of the Agreement for Sale with reasonable care and skill. 4. PRICE

a) The price for the Goods shall be as set out in the Seller’s price list in force from time to time except as otherwise provided for herein. The Seller reserves the right by written notice given to the Purchaser before delivery of the Goods to vary the price of Goods if, after the date of the Order Acknowledgement there is any increase in the Seller’s price list in respect of the same or similar description of Goods or by any amount attributable to a change in or insufficiency of the Purchaser’s instructions.

b) The Purchaser shall not be entitled to make any deduction from the price of the Goods in respect of any alleged rights to set off or counter-claims unless both the validity and the amounts thereof have been expressly acknowledged and admitted by a director or authorised person on behalf of the Seller in writing.

c) The price for the Goods will be inclusive of the costs of packaging and delivery charges within the United Kingdom, subject to the Minimum Carriage Paid Order Value at the relevant time. Where the net value of the Goods is less than the Minimum Carriage Paid Order Value, a surcharge of 100 per cent of such carriage costs will be imposed.

d) Subject to Condition 4(c) above, unless otherwise stated, the price for the Goods is exclusive of the costs of packaging, freight, insurance, delivery charges and all applicable taxes, duties, tariffs and charges of any nature whatsoever imposed in any country or territory, either directly or indirectly, in respect of the sale or supply of the Goods, or payments for them. In particular, the price for the Goods is exclusive of Value Added Tax, which will be payable in addition to the price for the Goods in the manner and at the rate prescribed by law from time to time.

e) Where the value of the order is less than the Minimum Invoice Charge at the relevant time, the Minimum Invoice Charge will be imposed on all orders (except in the case of cut keys).

Payment terms for export orders shall be offered subject to individual review, specifically agreed in writing and there is no guarantee that credit terms will be offered.

b) Time for payment of the price shall be of the essence of the Agreement for Sale and in the event of any payment becoming overdue, the Seller shall be entitled to charge interest at the rate of four per cent per month above the then current base rate of the Bank of England which shall be calculated and accrue on a day to day basis from the date on which payment fell due until payment (whether made before or after judgement has been obtained by the Seller against the Purchaser). The Seller reserves the right to suspend further deliveries and/or to cancel any allowance of further credit in the event of any payments not being made when due, or if the Seller in its sole discretion at any time considers the financial condition of the Purchaser has ceased to justify any such terms being permitted.

c) The Seller may at any time in its absolute discretion appropriate any payment made by the Purchaser in respect of Goods to such outstanding debt as the Seller thinks fit, notwithstanding any purported appropriation to the contrary by the Purchaser or the Seller. The Seller shall be entitled at any time and notwithstanding its acceptance of any order to cancel the Agreement for Sale or to postpone any delivery until payment has been received in the event that the Seller has reasonable doubts about the Purchaser’s ability or willingness to pay on the due date. Until the Agreement for Sale is so repudiated the Seller may, at its option either store the Goods itself or have them stored by third parties on such terms as it in its absolute discretion thinks fit. The cost of storage and any additional transportation will be added to and shall form part of the price. If the Seller elects to treat the Agreement for Sale as repudiated in accordance with this Condition it shall (without prejudice to its rights and remedies in respect of such repudiation) be entitled to sell the Goods and retain the proceeds of the sale.

b) Any claim for shortage, damage or for transport surcharges should be directed by the Purchaser to the carrier within seven days of such delivery and notification of any such claim should be made to the Seller. Any period or date for delivery stated in the Agreement for Sale or elsewhere is the Seller's best estimate and is not to be deemed to be a contractual commitment. The Purchaser shall not be entitled to refuse to accept late delivery or to treat late delivery as a breach of the Agreement for Sale.

c) Unless otherwise agreed in writing, Goods included in each delivery (or part delivery) shall be deemed to be sold under a separate contract. Neither failure on the Seller's part to make any delivery (or part delivery) in accordance with the Agreement for Sale, nor any claim by the Purchaser in respect of such delivery (or part delivery) shall entitle the Purchaser to reject the balance of the Goods agreed to be purchased by the Purchaser. The Seller may at its option deliver by instalments and each instalment shall constitute a separate contract on these Conditions.

d) Unless otherwise agreed in writing all export orders will be delivered f.o.b. Incoterms 2020 at a British port to be notified by the Seller.

h) The Seller shall make good shortages notified to it under Condition 6(g) above as soon as reasonably practicable but shall not be liable for any other loss whatsoever arising from such shortage.

i) The Seller's liability for Goods lost or damaged in transit shall in all circumstances be limited to (at the Seller's option) the repair or replacement or credit to the Purchaser of the invoice value of the Goods in question.

b) Retained Goods:-

d) The Seller may, at any time on giving prior notice, enter the Purchaser's premises for the purpose of inspecting Retained Goods and identifying them as the Seller's property and the Purchaser irrevocably authorises the Seller to enter upon its premises for that purpose.

e) Upon suspension and revocation or determination of the Purchaser's power of sale and use under this Condition the Purchaser shall place all the Retained Goods in its possession or under its control at the Seller's disposal and shall be deemed irrevocably to authorise the Seller to enter upon any of the Purchaser's premises, with or without vehicles, for the purpose of removing such Retained Goods.

f) The repossession of Retained Goods by the Seller in accordance with this Condition shall be without prejudice to all or any of the Seller's other rights against the Purchaser under the Agreement for Sale.

8. LIABILITY

a) Nothing in these Conditions shall be interpreted as excluding or restricting any liability of a party:-

(i) arising under Part 1 of the Consumer Protection Act 1987;

(ii) for death or personal injury resulting from the negligence (as defined in Section 1 of the Unfair Contract Terms Act 1977) of the relevant party, its employees, agents or sub-contractors;
